

Mass Files Privacy Policy

22 April 2020

The website <https://massfiles.net/> uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google Inc. ('Google'). Google Analytics uses cookies, which are text files placed on the website visitors' devices to allow analysis on how they interact with the website by collecting and anonymously reporting information like the device type used for visiting the website, the device location, and session duration and interactions with the website. The aforementioned website make use of IP anonymization, which ensures that the website visitors' IP addresses are truncated as soon as technically feasible at the earliest possible stage of the collection network and will never be fully written to disk. Website visitors can disable the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings in their browser. Furthermore, they can prevent Google from compiling and using the data generated by cookies in relation to their use of websites by downloading and installing a browser add-on if using Google Chrome or checking the instructions or Help function of their browser. Google Inc. acts as data processor in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). View Google's Terms of Service for more information.